

Exploring Diversity in University Lifelong Learning

On-line workshop in real time (Pilot Workshop)
 Wednesday, 19 September 2012

Facilitator: Andrea Waxenegger

Dr. Andrea Waxenegger has been Director of the Center for Continuing Education at the University of Graz, Austria, since 2000. She has a background in adult education and has been working since 1989 in the field of university continuing education in research, organisational and programme development, and development of professional networks, also at European and international level. In addition, Andrea has been President of the European University Continuing Education Network (EUCEN) since November 2010.

Focus of current areas of activity:

Research-based development of University Lifelong Learning/innovative learning environments in the field of general education at university level; presentations and workshops at national, European and international level; publications; building and maintaining partnerships and networks at regional, national and European level; development of programmes to further competence of educators and facilitators working in the field; policy development and current best practice in University Lifelong Learning and Learning in Later Life/Intergenerational Learning at European level and in universities in Europe; EU Projects.

This on-line workshop will be a pilot within the IMPLEMENT project to test the course and the material. It will also be a pilot for Andrea herself, as she will be leading an on-line workshop for the first time.
